DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 14-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 14, the word "of", first occurrence, in line 3 renders the claim indefinite and should be deleted.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-15 and 17-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the known baler system discussed by applicants in lines 22-31 on page 1 of their specification or in Lundahl, et al. in view of Eecke, et al. and Vellius and Hale, et al.

The known baler system is manually operated as is the baler system in Lundahl. Each baler system is disclosed as containing a pick up, baler and accumulator.

Eecke discloses towing an accumulator with a hitch.

Vellius and Hale disclose automated systems as claimed by applicants for farm equipment.

It would have been obvious to substitute an accumulator as taught by Eecke for the accumulator in the baler system disclosed by applicants or Lundahl. Note Eecke, figure 1, elements 13, 11.

It would also have been obvious to replace the controls in the known baler system or in Lundahl with controls as claimed in view of the automatic controls in Vellius and Hale since it would involve only routine skill to replacement manual means with mechanical means or automatic means which accomplish the same result. See in re Venner, 120 USPQ 192.

Regarding claims 15 and 17-28, the accumulator in Eecke comprises the structure to provide the operation claimed. See Eecke, figures 1-4.

Applicants' arguments have been carefully considered but are not deemed persuasive. The known baler system comprises an accumulator and Lundahl comprises area 22 which accumulates bales. Moreover, Eecke teaches towing a bale handler behind a baler with a hitch. As for Vellius and Hale, these references are used for their teachings of control systems in agricultural machines. Each of these references monitor the location of a vehicle and use the data to provide for vehicle control. Note the abstract in Vellius and Hale, the paragraph bridging column 2 and 3. Also note Hale, column 4, lines 51-56 which set forth providing directional or positional assistance.

Claims 16 and 31-35 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
